we now see two different opinions (one for and one against) by the federal appeals courts. approaching serious injuries and 745 slight injuries, but the DFT says this is likely to be an underestimate. "the front line as what happens politically in Texas, which is often a bellwether of the coming national political